

Application

Hail guards are coil protection devices designed to prevent damage to exposed condenser coils from weather and other outside agents. McDaniel Metals' hail guards are painted to match the units and designed for easy installation. Fit the hail guard onto the unit so that the flanges on the part are aligned with the corner posts and top and base pan of the unit and secure with screws provided.

2 - GUARDS

